

In 2017 our MP who was senior in the Department for International Development visited us and we Skyped Kagio. Kenyan television made a film about our partnership.

Paste this link in your browser and you will be able to watch it.
<https://youtu.be/aOKpRKaeK-0>

A screenshot of a Facebook post from the official page of British Council Kenya. The post is dated 24 July 2017 and features a pink circular profile picture with four white dots. The text of the post describes a partnership between Kagio primary school in Kenya and Notely school in the UK, highlighting cultural exchange and educational goals. The post includes a three-dot menu icon in the top right corner.

British Council Kenya ✓
24 July 2017 · 🌐

Pupils of Kagio primary school interact with their counterparts from the white Notely school in the UK through the 'Connecting classrooms' program spearheaded by the British council
The pupil activities centered on cultural exchange and understanding and comparing and contrasting the millennium development goals in both extents
This initiative is linked to British Council's Schools Program aimed at connecting the UK and Kenyan school sectors to enrich education, promote global citizenship and build international trust and understanding

A video player interface showing a scene of school children walking on a dirt path. The children are wearing school uniforms, including pink dresses and a red sweater. The video player has a dark grey control bar at the bottom with the title "'CONNECTING CLASSROOMS'" in white capital letters. The progress bar shows 0:09 / 4:36. The video player includes standard controls: play/pause, next, volume, full screen, and a share icon.

'CONNECTING CLASSROOMS'

0:09 / 4:36